Any electrical apparatus in the lading space must be of non-sparking or explosion proof type. There may not be combustion apparatus in the lading space and no connection for return of air from the lading space to any combustion apparatus. The heating system must be such that no part of the lading will be heated to over 130 degrees F and must conform to 49 CFR § 393.77.

b. Shipments covered by this special permit are limited to those shipments for which control is required to assure proper functioning of the motors or devices and is not being required to preclude a transportation hazard developing from instability.

c. When a temperature control apparatus is operated by generator engines, fuel tanks for the generators must conform to construction requirements of 49 CFR § 393.67, "Liquid fuel tanks." The fuel tank must be capable of passing, without leakage, a 30-foot drop test on one corner when filled with water having a weight equal to the weight of the maximum fuel load of the tank. The tank will contain a relief valve sized to meet the requirements of 49 CFR § 393.67. The fuel tank will be physically located outside of the cargo carrier.

d. Peacekeeper "MX" Stage I, II, and III rocket motors must be as described in Certificates of Equivalency on file with the Office of Hazardous Materials Safety Approvals and Permit Division (OHMSAPD). The Rocket Motors must be secured in a Type II transporter CI-44000; shipping container CI-0044032 detailed in Drawing No. 863T0000000 and other drawings on file with OHMSAPD. Otherwise, any shipments made on commercial bills must be only for devices (covered by this special permit) that have been previously identified to OHMSAPD.

d. The requirements of § 174.84 are hereby waived to allow placement of cars bearing "Explosives" placards two cars ahead of a car occupied by observers or escorts, with a non-placarded buffer car in between when the occupied car is equipped with lighted heaters or stoves.

e. Shipments by motor carrier and/or commercial cargo vessel carrier are restricted to those carriers which have been specifically approved by the Department of Defense Military Surface Distribution & Deployment Command (SDDC), formerly the Military Traffic Management Command. Shipments by cargo vessel are only authorized between the Continental United States and Alaska.
