

been, the covered Nissan inflators are not an appropriate proxy standard for inconsequentiality). The sample sizes used for the analyses were also limited, and there are shortcomings regarding various analyses that undermine their conclusions—including some information was missing or unclear.

As a general matter, signs of aging were observed, which leads to propellant degradation, which leads to inflator rupture—and the 2004 propellant that is present in the covered Mazda inflators degrades until, at some point, it no longer burns normally, but in an accelerated and unpredictable manner that can cause an inflator rupture. Perhaps most importantly, even with the limited testing evidence available, ballistic testing of field returns of the covered Ford inflators includes three inflator deployments with primary-chamber pressures between 60 and 70 MPa—coming from two ZQ inflators with a field age between 12 and 13 years (one of which exhibited a pressure of 68 MPa), and one ZN inflator with a field age between 10 and 11 years. Data from the MEAF also appears to indicate the beginning stages of density changes in propellant tablets in the inflators with increasing field age. These results from real-world field returns signal that propellant degradation is occurring, and belie the probability-of-failure projections provided in November 2020 (which have their own additional shortcomings that would lead to an understatement of the potential risk).

Given the severity of the consequence of propellant degradation in these air bag inflators—the rupture of the inflator and metal shrapnel sprayed at vehicle occupants—a finding of inconsequentiality to safety demands extraordinarily robust and persuasive evidence. What Mazda presents here, while valuable and informative in certain respects, suffers from far too many shortcomings, both when the evidence is assessed individually and in its totality, to demonstrate that the defect in covered Mazda inflators is not important or can otherwise be ignored as a matter of safety.

In consideration of the forgoing, NHTSA has decided Mazda has not demonstrated that the defect is inconsequential to motor vehicle safety. Accordingly, Mazda's Petition is hereby denied, and Mazda is obligated to provide notification of, and a remedy for, the defect pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 30118 and 30120. Within 30 days of the issuance of this decision, Ford shall submit to NHTSA a proposed schedule for the notification of vehicle owners and the launch of a remedy required to fulfill those obligations.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: PHMSA received a special permit request from NGPL, a subsidiary of Kinder Morgan, Inc., seeking a waiver from the requirements of 49 CFR 192.611(a) and (d): Change in class location:

Confirmation or revision of maximum allowable operating pressure, and 49 CFR 192.619(a): Maximum allowable operating pressure: Steel or plastic pipelines. This special permit is being requested in lieu of pipe replacement or pressure reduction for 10 pipeline segments totaling 21,141 feet (approximately 4 miles) of 30-inch diameter pipe on the Gulf Coast Line #1 and the Gulf Coast Line #2 Pipelines, located in Polk County, Texas. The proposed special permit will allow operation of the original Class 1 pipe in the Class 3 locations.

The proposed special permit would allow NGPL to uprate the Gulf Coast Line #1 and Gulf Coast Line #2 Pipelines from a current 715 pounds per square inch gauge (psig) maximum allowable operating pressure (MAOP) to an 858 psig MAOP. The pipeline MAOP uprating is for a new NGPL 2021 contractual obligation to deliver 300,000 dekatherms per day of incremental natural gas volumes to the Cheniere Corpus Christi, Texas Liquefied Natural Gas Terminal.

The Gulf Coast Line #1 Pipeline was constructed between 1951 and 1973. The Gulf Coast Line #2 Pipeline was constructed between 1962 and 1982.

The special permit request, proposed special permit with conditions, and Draft Environmental Assessment (DEA) for the NGPL Gulf Coast Lines #1 and #2 Pipelines are available for review and public comments in Docket No. PHMSA-2019-0151. PHMSA invites interested persons to review and submit comments on the special permit request and DEA in the docket. Please include any comments on potential safety and environmental impacts that may result if the special permit is granted. Comments may include relevant data.

Before issuing a decision on the special permit request, PHMSA will evaluate all comments received on or before the comments closing date. Comments received after the closing date will be evaluated, if it is possible to do so without incurring additional expense or delay. PHMSA will consider each relevant comment it receives in making its decision to grant or deny this special permit request.

Issued in Washington, DC, under authority delegated in 49 CFR 1.97.

Alan K. Mayberry,

Associate Administrator for Pipeline Safety.
