PHMS-2026-00099	02/10/2026	Akana, a consulting engineering firm	I would like to obtain a copy of the current permit or certificate for NW Pipeline LLC (Williams Gas) that grants permission to cross the Columbia River between Hood River, Oregon and White Salmon, Washington. I am the utilities lead for the Owner's representative team hired by the Hood River White Salmon Bridge Authority. The design team is interested to see what all is involved for Williams to obtain a new permit to relocate their 4-inch line onto a new bridge crossing that is currently in the design phase. The design team is trying to determine what kind of timelines are required, or if NW Pipeline LLC will need to obtain a FERC permit for the new crossing. I initially reached FERC's FOIA and did not find any records there. They indicated that the pipeline sounds small. Sam Anderson (FERC Public Liaison) provided me with the link to PHMAS and indicated you have jurisdiction over operational pipelines and might have some information.
PHMS-2026-00100	02/11/2026	Jorgenson, PLLC	On or about January 12, 2024, a gas main belonging to our client was damaged during an excavation project at or near 3315 Greenfield Road, Melvindale, Michigan. PHMS-2026-00114	03/04/2026	Environmental Defense Fund	On January 12, 2026, Secretary of Transportation Duffy and PHMSA Administrator Roberti announced the Notice, which provides that the Office of Pipeline Safety and the Office of Hazardous Materials Safety " will refrain from taking any enforcement action against a regulated party if the regulated party, through the submission of a special permit application, demonstrates that performing the required activity would contribute to the national energy emergency by adversely impacting the transportation of energy. The regulated party must apply for a special permit no later than 45 days after determining that the required activity should not be performed in response to the Notice. PHMSA will refrain from taking any enforcement action against the party: 1) while an application is pending; 2) if an application is granted, and 3) for a reasonable period of time after an application is denied.3 In addition to regulated parties with pending special permit applications, the Notice applies to parties that seek other appropriate forms of relief outside of the special permitting process, including requests for findings or approvals or for modifications to the terms, conditions, restrictions, or limitations imposed in orders, that regulated parties submit in response to the national energy emergency. 4 Specifically, EDF requests the following records: 1. All records of applications for special permits and other forms of relief, including cover letters or transmission emails and any ensuing correspondence, received by PHMSA since January 12, 2026; 2. All records of requests to prioritize any applications for special permits or other forms of relief, including cover letters or transmission emails and any ensuing correspondence, since January 12, 2026 (regarding applications that had been received by PHMSA prior to January 12, 2026); 3. All records identifying decisions by PHMSA to prioritize consideration or review of special permit applications or other forms of relief under the Notice; 4. All records related to, addressing the basis for, and encompassing the decision to issue the Notice, including correspondence with outside entities about the development of, and institution of, the review standards outlined in the Notice.
